

Stephanie Lue-Kim, GBA

Principal, Total Health Management
Mercer
Toronto, Canada

Stephanie's experience in group insurance spans 24 years, the majority of which are in the areas of health, wellness and disability. Previous roles include an organizational health consultant, a rehabilitation consultant and a disability case manager. Stephanie's current role as a principal in Mercer's Total Health Management team brings previous skills and knowledge to the forefront to address and support disability, health and wellness programs. Skills include disability gap analysis, disability audits, creating and supporting health and wellness strategies and programs, delivering Diversity, Equity and Inclusion training, and mental health training. Recent accomplishments include the development of the Human Resources Professional Association's (HRPA) Health and Wellness curriculum offered through McMaster University's continuing education program in 2020-2021. She has delivered health, wellness and disability training through the Canadian Pension & Benefits Institute (CPBI) for the HRPA. Stephanie holds a bachelor of arts degree with honours in sociology from McMaster University, the Group Benefit Associate (GBA) designation and various certifications in the fitness industry.