Breanna Radtke has over 20 years of experience in benefit plan design, consulting, and administration. Through a focus on performance and a strategic mindset, her expertise includes managing various benefits programs, strategic planning, and team leadership, allowing her to effectively handle complex organizational challenges. As the administrator of the Mid-America Carpenters Regional Council Benefit Funds Office in Chicago, Illinois, Breanna oversees the management and administration of health and welfare, retirement, leave of absence, and well-being plans for over 40,000 union members and their families. Breanna holds a master's degree in health leadership from Western Governors University, an M.B.A. degree in organizational leadership from the University of Findlay, and a B.S. degree in business administration from York College. She has also appeared on the show The Best Times to discuss mindfulness and is a frequent guest speaker at industry conferences. In her current role as chair of the Midwest Employee Benefit Funds Coalition, Breanna continues to influence the future of employee benefits, ensuring that benefit programs are effective and supportive.
